DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments filed 8/20/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The rejection remains for the reasons of record.

Applicant's claims and arguments do not clearly set forth how the claimed invention is not obvious over the cited prior art. Much of the preamble is apparently an intended use of the embedded tissue and actually it is somewhat confusing if the steps/apparatus discussed in the preamble are required for the invention (the claims have not been examined as if they are). Perhaps a more clear recitation of the method would obviate the rejection but as is the invention appears to merely be embedding tissue in a polymer and embedding tissue in such ways for further examination is old and well known in the art and those of ordinary skill in said art would have been motivated to select appropriate embedding material and orientation as needed depending on how exactly the tissue was to be studied.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 27-31 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Owen et al (EP-A-0245969).

Owen et al teach embedding tissue specimens into a material, e.g. wax, and positioning the tissue to be cut so that the slices can be further studied. The reference does not teach all of applicant's preferred embodiments, e.g. the orientation of the tissue corresponding to the in vivo orientation. However the orientation used and the means for producing the mold would have been matter of routine experimentation to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made. Owen suggests embedding the tissue so that it may be cut in different types of section, therefore it would have been obvious to embed and then cut the tissue in any known useful way to properly study/use the tissue.

As the reference clearly indicates that the various proportions and amounts of the ingredients used in the claimed composition are result effective variables, they would be routinely optimized by one of ordinary skill in the art in practicing the invention disclosed by those references.

Accordingly, the claimed invention was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
